The eggs are about to hatch, and the bird mothers are busy decorating a cozy nest. Eggs, feathers, leaves, flowers, or little worms – players must match the challenge card patterns and quickly catch a bird to add a chick to their nest. This is an introductory game of observation and spatial awareness for young children.

Aim of the game: To collect 5 Chick tokens.

Game setup:

1. Each player takes one nest and the set of 4 corresponding Decoration tiles (the edges of the Decoration tiles are the same colour as the nest board).

2. Place 1 fewer bird than the number of players in the center of the table, accessible to all.

3. Choose the difficulty level of the game and take the corresponding Challenge cards.

Note: It is recommended to start with level 1 challenges. Once this level is mastered, you can move on to level 2.

Shuffle and form a face-down pile with the Challenge cards. Place the pile at the center of the table, visible to all players.

4. Place the Chick tokens beside the pile.

Before starting:

Together, the players familiarize themselves with both sides of their 4 Decoration tiles by naming the illustrations and their colours.

Then, they place their nest in front of them and line up their 4 “decoration” tiles, with the egg side visible, in a row in front of them.

How to play:

All players play simultaneously.

The game ends when one or more players have collected 5 chick tokens.

Playing your turn:

The oldest player flips over the first Challenge card and names the 4 pictures on it. At the start signal, all players search among their Decoration tiles for the 4 faces that match the Challenge card.

As soon as a player thinks they have aligned their 4 Decoration tiles that match the 4 illustrations on the Challenge card, they take a bird from the center of the table and place it on their nest.

Warning: Not all players will get a bird!

Important: It is not necessary for the tiles to be in the same order as on the Challenge card.

When there are no more birds left in the center of the table, everyone checks the tiles of the players who have a bird on their nest:

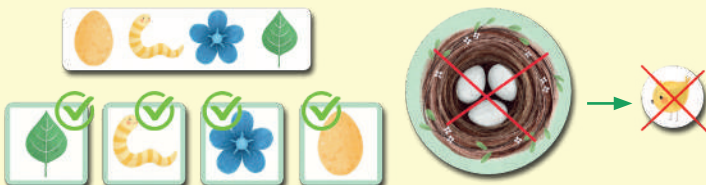

- If the tiles match the illustrations on the Challenge card: they win! The player earns a Chick token.

- If the tiles do not match the Challenge card: they lose! The player doesn't earn anything this round.
Le joueur ne gagne rien ce tour-ci.

- The player who didn't catch a bird earns nothing either.

The birds are returned to the center of the table, the played Challenge card is discarded, and the players return their “decoration” tiles with the egg side visible. Then a new round of the game begins.

End of the game:

The game ends when one or more players have collected 5 baby bird tokens! Congratulations!

Level 2 Variation

Once level 1 is well understood, players can move on to level 2. The game is played the same way, with the level 2 Challenge cards replacing the level 1 cards.

The difference:

The level 2 Challenge cards show 4 decorations arranged in a 2x2 square. Players must find these 4 decorations and replicate the placement from the Challenge card.
